

2007 NEIBA All-Star Game

Jul 11, 2007

MEDFORD, Mass. -- The New England Intercollegiate Baseball Association (NEIBA) will hold its 33rd Annual College Baseball All-Star Game at Boston's Fenway Park on Sunday, July 22 after the Red Sox game with the Chicago White Sox. A team made up of Division I All-New England First and Second Team players will face a squad consisting of All-New England Division II players and New England Division III Senior All-Stars. The game is expected to start at approximately 6:30 p.m. Tickets will be $5 at Gate D and fans with tickets to that day's Red Sox game may stay for the College All-Star game. The University Division Team won last year's game, 2-1, and leads the series 21-9-1 overall.
